The Consulting Panel 2013

Are you interested in a career in consulting?

Leslie Waite, PhD. Senior Clinical Trainer, Genentech

Dr. Waite helps the sales representatives who sell Genentech agents understand the clinical aspects of the diseases that those agents treat. Prior to that, she was on Genentech's BioOncology Competitive Intelligence team.

Cory Blaiss, PhD. Analyst at Kantar Health

Kantar Health is a clinical and scientific assessment group, where Dr. Blaiss has co-authored subscription-based reports covering current treatment practices and late phase drug development in oncology, and has contributed to consulting engagements with a focus on the oncology market and competitive landscape.

Neil Sheehy, PhD. Analyst at Prescient Life Sciences

Prescient Life Sciences is a consulting firm that operates between the business and market intelligence agencies and the strategic management consultancies. When he was a graduate student at UCSF Gladstone, he did consulting for QB3 New Ventures and an internship at Kearny Venture Partners.
